

Norwegian Cable Distribution Box Manufacturer

Article Overview

Nexans Norway AS and Norwegian Electronic Supply AS are key providers of cable systems and related distribution solutions in Norway.

Nexans Norway AS

Nexans Norway AS is a leading supplier of power, telecommunications, installation, and heating cables, with expertise in offshore control cables and high-voltage submarine cable systems . The company operates manufacturing plants in Rognan, Namsos, Langhus, Karmøy, and Halden, and its head office is in Oslo . Nexans provides a complete range of cable accessories, including purpose-designed joints, terminations, and transition joints, which are essential components for cable distribution systems . Their solutions cover both onshore and offshore installations, making them a reliable choice for complex electrification projects.

Norwegian Electronic Supply AS

Norwegian Electronic Supply AS specializes in subsea, oil, and gas industry cables, connectors, and cable assemblies . They offer molding and pressure test facilities, along with a large stock of connectors and cables, which can be integrated into cable distribution boxes for industrial and offshore applications . Their focus on high-quality, customized solutions makes them suitable for projects requiring robust and reliable distribution systems....
