

Where can I find cable tray supports in Canada

Article Overview

Canada offers multiple providers for cable tray systems and installation, including Unitray, MB Électrique, Mechano Max, Superior Tray Systems, and Code Electric, covering both Eastern and Western regions.

Key Providers and Services

Unitray is a leading manufacturer and supplier of aluminum cable trays in Canada, offering CSA-approved Class C, D, and E trays in standard and custom lengths. They provide high-quality products and technical support for installation projects, including FASTRAY® systems designed to reduce field labor and simplify installation. MB Électrique specializes in cable tray installation in Montreal East, Laval, and the North Shore. They handle industrial and commercial projects, installing ladder-type, perforated, or solid trays in galvanized steel or aluminum. Their services include structural support design, load calculations, and compliance with electrical codes and EMI separation requirements. Mechano Max provides modular, bolt-together steel supports for cable trays and instrumentation across Canada. Their systems eliminate welding and hot-work permits, allowing fast assembly and on-site adjustments. They offer heavy-duty supports, pre-assembled stands, and integration with existing infrastructure for complex installations. Superior Tray Systems Inc offers custom-designed, CSA and UL-certified cable tray systems suitable for power, control, data, and telecom cables. They provide both distribution and installation services, ensuring robust and cost-effective solutions for industrial and commercial applications. Code Electric serves Western Canada, delivering aluminum and steel ladder trays, wire m...
